Dear members of the Australian Marist Community, Greetings to each of you across Australia.

I have left this communication until now when people are settled into their ministries for the year. It is our intention to produce a newsletter for the AMC roughly once a month. This will contain some news from the Provincial and Mission Councils, news about Brothers and Lay Marists as well as items from Joe McCarthy and the Pastoral Team.

The audience for this newsletter is as broad as our name, the Australian Marist Community. It includes the Brothers, people who have been part of the National Network mailing list developed by Joe McCarthy and Carole Wark, people working in the Province administration, Young Marists, ministry leaders and all in Marist ministries who identify themselves as Marist.

f rom the Provincial

Since the beginning of this year, the Brothers have been receiving a communication called, Brothers' Daily News. It is intended for the Brothers only. Items such as eulogies and Jubilee speeches will be sent out as attachments. The AMC Pastoral Team will prepare communications that have a vocational and spiritual formation edge to it for those who are looking for something deeper.

News of Marist ministries is communicated to the AMC through the Marist Schools Australia Newsletter that comes out fortnightly, through "Solidarity Matters" that comes from the Marist Solidarity office, and associated websites. We will not be duplicating these communications. The Lavalla magazine that appears three times a year is presented in a popular magazine format and aims at having something of interest for a wide readership. In any issue, therefore, there will be a mix of news, comment, inspiration, photographs of Marist people (preferably staff), developments in and among member schools, and news from the wider Marist world.

We are also working on a new Province website. This will have some "permanent" items, some pages renewed regularly from Marist ministries and activities, and links to other Province websites – such as Marist Schools Australia, Marist Solidarity, Vocations, Marist Youth Care.

All these efforts at communicating and keeping in touch are aimed at building up relationships between us, developing a sense of belonging and "growing committed Marists" – this expression has been adopted as the over-arching Province slogan for the next few years.

Speaking for both Provincial and Mission Councils, I can say that we are honoured to be leading the AMC at this special moment in the history of Marists in Australia. We want to thank each of you for your ongoing service to our common mission, for your commitment to your own journey as a Marist and to helping new relationships to develop locally and across the country. It is the work of the Spirit of God but entrusted to us mere mortals.

Have a great year!

rovincial Chapter outcomes

The Chapter set four key directions. The two that are immediately relevant for the AMC are:

1. To affirm the Priorities for Mission that emerged from the Mission Assembly.
  - Australian Marist Community living out vocational lives.
  - Co-responsibility.
  - Formation.
  - Ministry.
  - Solidarity.
  - Young Marists: Our Future.
2. To promote the growth of the Australian Marist Community and to work towards the establishment of a Public Association of Christ's Faithful.

The future of Marist mission and life in Australia will depend on Marists, Brothers and Lay, collaborating and sharing responsibility together. Over the past twelve months, a Task Force has investigated the most suitable canonical structure to sustain our Marist charism into the future and to provide a community where our Marist vocations can be nurtured. The Chapter received the Task Force's Report and was excited by the possibilities and new horizons presented.

The Province Professional Standards Office will be based at Drummoyne not Mascot. The office will move from Blacktown to Drummoyne in the coming weeks.

Joelle Coulon has been re-appointed as the Provincial's PA for two years. She will work from Drummoyne and be the PA for Norm Maroney as well. Debbie Turton had to withdraw from the position because of a change in family circumstances.

Joelle can be contacted on 02 8752 8203 or joelle.coulon@marists.org.au

The Province Mission Assembly – SEVEN MONTHS ON

A representative group of Australian Marists gathered at Mittagong in mid-August last year for the first “Mission Assembly” of the yet-to-be-established Province of Australia. It was a heartening and inspiring event. Just over a half a year later, the new Province is well and truly established and each of the strategic priorities named by the Assembly for the next three years is being actively advanced. This is an update for the Australian Marist Community on how that is happening.

The participants in the Mission Assembly were enormously encouraged by the current vitality of Marist life and mission across Australia and fired with confidence for the future possibilities for its growth. At the same time, they were keenly aware of the challenges and obstacles which we face. The Assembly identified six major priorities for 2013-2015.

The six priorities for 2013-15 as described in the Mission Assembly statement	The ways these priorities are being advanced in 2013
1 Australian Marist Community living out vocational lives The Assembly passionately believes that there must be a commitment to the development of Marist vocational life and community and believes that its members should continue to invite others to join it. The Assembly believes there should be: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Exploration of diverse and creative models of community for brothers and lay;</li> <li>• Exploration of the meaning and implications of commitment for Lay Marists;</li> <li>• An emphasis on a renewed and expanded understanding of vocation; and</li> <li>• Promotion, support and encouragement of the invitation to the Brothers’ vocation.</li> </ul>	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. A five-member “Australian Marist Community Pastoral Team” has been established with a brief to accompany Lay Marists in their vocational journeys, strategically and personally, and to support local communities of Marists</li> <li>2. The task-force which is looking at new canonical ways for Lay Marists to belong is developing concrete proposals this year in liaison with the General Administration. This will be put to General Conference of Provincials in September.</li> <li>3. The Mission Council is considering new ways for Marist Brothers and Lay Marists to form a sense of community in several places where the Brothers’ presence is facing significant diminishment in the next three years.</li> </ol>

The six priorities for 2013-15 as described in the Mission Assembly statement	The ways these priorities are being advanced in 2013
2 Co-responsibility The Assembly acknowledges that authentic co-responsibility is an essential element of our future. In living co-responsibly we will build new relationships and structures that reflect equitable participation, voice, and responsibility. This will demand genuine dialogue among all the members and ministries of the Marist community. This will be lived locally and nationally.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. The Mission Council charter, endorsed by the Assembly and later by the Provincial Chapter, has been approved by the new Provincial Council.</li> <li>2. Formal delegations have been made to the Mission Council which is made up of four Lay Marists, two Marist Brothers, in addition to the Provincial (Chair) and Executive Director of Marist Ministries (Executive Officer). The MC has begun its work.</li> <li>3. A range of boards, councils and committees has been established and/or re-appointed with some new members: the 3 MSA Regional Councils; the Board of MYC; the Board of Australian Marist Solidarity; the Board of Management for the Hermitage; the Marist Youth Ministry Council. All of these consist mainly of Lay Marists.</li> </ol>
3 Formation The Assembly is certain that formation equips us for participation in the heart of God's mission, opening us to a deeper sense of God's will and activity in our on-going ministries. Wherever possible, and appropriate, formation will be offered jointly to Brothers and Lay Marists. Particular attention should be paid to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Succession planning and leadership development; and</li> <li>• Education of those responsible for formation.</li> </ul>	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. The Mission and Life Formation Team has two new members, replacing Brs Michael Callinan and Michael Flanagan.</li> <li>2. All the courses and programmes offered and supported by the MLF team are open to Brothers and Lay Marists together.</li> <li>3. This range of courses continues to be augmented.</li> <li>4. The succession planning seminars (called Marist Leaders: Next Gen) continues.</li> </ol>

The six priorities for 2013-15 as described in the Mission Assembly statement	The ways these priorities are being advanced in 2013
4 Ministry The Assembly accepts the challenge of the General Chapter for Marists to be “experts in the evangelisation of youth”. In animating our ministry to young people in a variety of circumstances, we will adopt an audacious approach to what we currently do and challenges that may confront us. The areas of education, youth care, young adult ministry and advocacy for marginalised young people remain core to our mission.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. The role of “Executive Director of Ministries” has been established.</li> <li>2. Two new schools are on the drawing boards.</li> <li>3. Marist Youth Care is expanding on a national basis, including programmes such as with those with refugees and disengaged youth</li> </ol>
5 Solidarity The Assembly stresses the importance of the continued development of our efforts in solidarity across all areas of our ministries, most particularly in those places where others are unable or unwilling to go. In our schools and young adult ministries we educate and encourage young people in their responsibility to create a more just world. We commit to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Forging new ways of building God’s kingdom within our global Marist family and world;</li> <li>• Meeting our responsibility to advocate for the poor and marginalised in Australia and our world; and</li> <li>• Living in solidarity with young people, especially the marginalised, respecting their dignity and developing their capacity to transform their own lives and communities.</li> </ul>	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. A strategic response to the Superior General’s letter To The Ends of the Earth is being implemented, with a significant growth in volunteering for Ad Gentes envisaged</li> <li>2. The Province has confirmed the role of a coordinator of Volunteering and Advocacy</li> <li>3. Two solidarity workshop/seminars are scheduled for schools: one on immersions, and one on the Marist way of solidarity</li> <li>4. Fostering of domestic volunteering and immersions.</li> <li>5. New integrated ‘brand’ for Marist Solidarity</li> <li>6. Increased profile and participation for the annual fund-raising campaign in schools</li> </ol>

The six priorities for 2013-15 as described in the Mission Assembly statement	The ways these priorities are being advanced in 2013
Young Marists: Our Future The Assembly commits to the importance of animating, encouraging and supporting Young Marists, both Brothers and Lay, who are our future. Special attention must be given to their development and formation.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. New structure for Marist Youth Ministry, including three Regional Coordinators of MYM</li><li>2. New MYM Council for strategic planning and policy</li><li>3. Expansion of REMAR by three more Marist schools</li><li>4. New young adult (REMAR) community in Brisbane.</li></ol>

Lay Marist News

The newly formed Team in the Province of Australia is what has been named the Australian Marist Community Pastoral Team. Its work has three key levels:

To work with individual Lay Marists – come to know them and support them, encourage and foster their faith journey as a Marist and learn from them about Marist life in local areas

To work with local core groups of Marists – help initiate, shape and provide direction to core groups within each ministry, communicate Province developments and news with these groups, learn about Marist life in local areas from these groups

Connect Marists in the AMC to the Province perspective – provide networks and communication across and within the AMC which fosters coresponsibility and community, promote Province ministries, and foster this new sense of Church between all Marists

The Canonical Taskforce is now looking closely at what is required to write a petition to Rome requesting to establish what is formally known as an Association of Christ's Faithful (desperately in need of a name! Ideas?). This is a most daring and exciting way of imagining Marists in the future. The 'Association' would bring Marist Brothers and Lay Marists together as a body of people to take carriage of the responsibilities for Marist ministries, to nurture Marist vocation and bring life and sustainability to the Marist Charism. Once there is enough shape on the Petition for people to engage with, the Taskforce will seek and welcome feedback from Marists right across Australia.

In future editions of this newsletter, I would welcome a 'local Marist story'. This could be anything from a personal account or musing on Marist life, a story about a local Marist gathering that has recently taken place or maybe an idea that you would like to share and interact with other Marists about. Please feel free to send any information to Joe McCarthy at: joe.mccarthy@marists.org.au

Finally, along with others in the AMC Pastoral Team, I look forward to meeting with many of you as the year unfolds. There is nothing surer than the fact that we are building on years of efforts and energy that has gone towards getting Marist life in Australia to where it is now. In this moment, at this time, we are being invited to something new. May your journey as a Marist be inspired, renewed and challenged as the new Province takes shape and we are led towards new ways of being Church. I am continually inspired and changed by the generosity, spirit and openness of the people I meet in my work with Lay Marists!

Chris Randell, Principal of Catholic College Sale, discusses matters with Joe McCarthy as part of the AMC Pastoral Team’s Term 1 visit.

PRAYER.

God of encouragement, God of invitation, you are always reaching out and reaching into our lives with your word and sacrament.

Jesus, who is your living word,
speaks your own words:
“Do not fear; only have faith.”

Give us ears to hear
and hearts to embrace.
Give us the capacity to move beyond our fears to where your freedom reigns.

God, give us the faith we need,
in order to move the mountains
that block the landscape and obscure the view of your reign.
